We will not be having a meeting in July. That does seem to be the theme lately.

We had a comfort quilt drop off and collected a couple hundred quilts. Not sure which was better, the amount of quilts or seeing so many of you. Thank you to all who worked collecting and all you made them. Some of you stopped and chit chatted and some didn't even get out of their cars. Didn't matter. We all had on masks but social distance was so-so as we were being handed stuff but all in all a good time was had and many quilts were sent out.

OK, a piece of wisdom or at least something that I learned. I was redoing my closet with my fabric in it. Decided to put it on boards so I could see it better and of course found fabric I forgot I had. But I digress, my daughter came to visit and told me that I didn't have to take everything out, that I could just work on a section at a time. She was wrong. I tried that and found out I was handling the fabric multiple times. Now there is nothing wrong with that except I was not getting anything done. So I took all the fabric out of the closet and it is all over my sewing room. I almost want to say I have too much fabric but we all know that no one can have too much fabric. Now I have back 80% nice and neat wrapped around the boards so I can see it BUT ran out of boards and they have been out of stock for the past 3 weeks. I have this pile (very big pile) of backing fabric that is sitting on the floor blocking the back of my quilting machine. Have to figure out what to do with it. I do not want to go back to stashing in drawers, but it might come to that, and then I am doomed. My room will never look like I want it to. I have watched way too many of those DIY videos "How to organize your sewing room". I know the answer, just quilt some of the dozen or so tops that are sitting here waiting very patiently to go to a new home. Nay, I want to make more tops.

I hope that you all are staying safe and having fun quilting. I am working 50 hour weeks so not getting enough quilting done, but boy I get a new magazine in the mail and mark off more tops I want to do. You guys have got to be making stuff for all I cannot do right now.

Keep cool as the temps go up for the summer and pray that things will get back to normal and we can meet again.

Alma Mellish
President

Membership

July is the start of our Guild year, so it is now time to renew your membership. Please fill out the form either in this newsletter or download a copy from the website. We use it to confirm that we have your contact information up to date. This is also the way you can order a hard copy of the membership directory, if you want one. You'll also be able to access it from Facebook.

You can mail in your form and a check. We'll have your membership cards and pins ready for you at our next meeting. Or, you can have your form all filled out and ready to turn in at our next meeting.

We are looking forward to seeing all of you as soon as it is safe to do so. In the meantime, if you need our assistance, please let us know. We're happy to help you get connected with your other Guild friends.

Nancy Honeycutt & Debby Femia

Our Stories, Quilting, Quilters, Why We Quilt and More

Growing up I was one of six children – 4 girls and 2 boys. When I was around 9 years old, in order to be able to have time alone with my Mom, I took to sitting on the floor beside her in her sewing room (a converted bathroom). In those years, it was cheaper to buy fabric and make clothes so that's what she did. She would hand me her scraps of cloth and I would cut them into rectangles and make "dresses" for my Barbies. Sew the shoulder seam and down each side and I had a dress. I thought I was all that and a bag of chips too!! This eventually turned into sewing pillows, then curtains, then clothes (3 yards of corduroy for 50 cents would make me two pairs of pants). None of my sisters were the slightest bit interested in sewing, so I ended up making my siblings' pajamas, then clothes for school and eventually my work suits (out of wool) and my wedding dress, then christening gowns made from my wedding dress.

Then my mother passed away. I didn't touch my sewing machine for over two years. Then a friend of mine gave me a quilt as a birthday present. I thought, Wow, this is cool. My family were knitters so we had lots of afghans but never any quilts. My oldest son's graduation from high school was coming up in a few years and I thought how nice it would be to make him a quilt as a graduation gift. That is how my thirst for all things quilted began. But I didn't know anyone who quilted except the friend who gave me the quilt. How do I get started? My first attempt at quilting was a log cabin. Big disaster. Huge. No rotary cutter, no rulers as we know them, no cutting mat. None of my blocks were the same size – most weren't even square. This would not do. I threw all of it away. Another 2 years went by but the idea of quilting never went away. I saw a quilting class advertised in the local high school continuing education program. I told myself that that's what I needed. A class. The second quilt went much better – just large size squares with sashing and cornerstones. But the class used polyester batting and you pin basted it on the floor and hand tied the quilt. A little better but still very disappointing to me. (Last year I took that quilt apart and replaced it with cotton batting and quilted it on my longarm. My grandsons use it now as their "tent").

I moved to Massachusetts in 2000 and finally was able to take a "real" class from a "real" quilt shop and a "real" quilter. That's when the quilting world really opened up for me. I devoured everything I could read on quilting and just kept learning. I experimented with color – some things I kept and some things I said to myself, "Nora, what were you thinking?" But it was still all fun for me. I started working at a quilt shop in Maine in 2010 so I could learn more and eventually started teaching classes. The Capital Quilt Guild is the first Guild I joined and my learning continues. I always thank my best friend in Maine for giving me that quilt so many years ago. You never know how one simple gesture of friendship will change your world.

Candy Block

July/August 2020 Block of the Month, Capital Quilters Guild

You will need two fabrics from your stash, a white or cream background (BG) fabric and a bright fabric for the candy (C).

Cutting requirements for 12" finished block:

C: Cut one  $3\frac{3}{4}$ " square. On the back side of the square draw a diagonal line, corner-to-corner, one time.

C: Cut one  $6\frac{1}{2}$ " square.

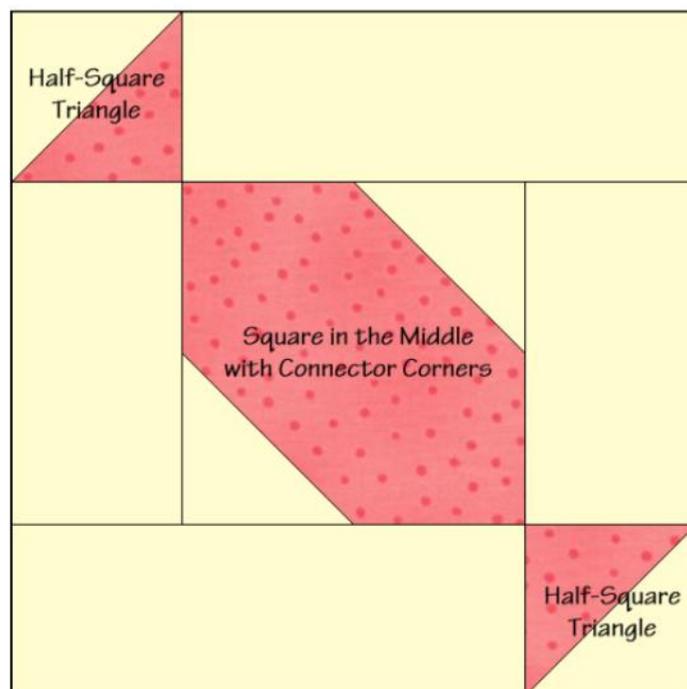

BG: Cut two  $3\frac{3}{4}$ " squares. On the back side of the squares draw a diagonal line, corner-to-corner, one time.

BG: Cut one  $3\frac{3}{4}$ " square.

BG: Cut two  $3\frac{1}{2}$ " x  $9\frac{1}{2}$ " strips.

BG: Cut two  $3\frac{1}{2}$ " x  $6\frac{1}{2}$ " strips.

Put together according to the diagram. If you have questions, email Joni Amerson at jwamerson@earthlink.net. The longer strips are the horizontal ones, and the shorter strips are vertical.

HOLIDAY BLOCKS

Last month, Cathy and I asked you to get your thinking caps on and come up with a design to submit for our Holiday block program. As of the writing of this article we have not heard from any of you with any plans for your blocks. I know there are no assurances as to the future guild meetings but we need to be ready to go when things do open up.

As a reminder, for each group or individual who wishes to design and supply a block, we need at least 20 of each design kitted, just the right amount for a nice size quilt. The budget is $50, and up to 10 groups can participate. BE CREATIVE! Holiday blocks can be holiday themed or not. Please let either Cathy or myself know if you plan to participate by providing a block for this year's program. You may contact us at cqgholidayblocks@yahoo.com. Final pictures of your block must be submitted no later than the August meeting.

For new members: At the October meeting, you have the opportunity to purchase Holiday block kits for $2 each. Take your block home, make it, and return your completed block at the December meeting. In order to be entered to win all the blocks for your chosen design you must return your completed block. If you did not complete your block we ask that you return your kit at the December meeting. Winners will be drawn that night from each block design group, and the lucky winner takes home enough blocks to make a quilt!

Ina Stringfellow & Cathy Erickson

Charity and Community Outreach

Hello, everyone! It was great to see so many of you earlier this month, as you dropped off completed quilts, and took kits or quilts to be bound. Since then I have received an additional 47 quilts that I will be passing along to each of the committees. Please keep making quilts ..... I will pick up completed quilts any time, and will also bring you kits if you need something to do.

Based on the numbers I have so far, we have completed 1,105 quilts this year! I am so proud of all of you! How awesome is this, in spite of (or because of?) being stuck home the past few months? We have also received 25 pillowcases, 44 blankets/afghans, and 77 hats.

Don't stop quilting, knitting, or sewing!!

Thanks for all those who provided quilts which were delivered to an assisted living center in Zebulon. You all are the best!

We will have another drop off event in September, so keep quilting! This event will be held at Highland UMC in their parking lot. Date and time still being finalized.

I have kits available.....just let me know!
